

The Wedding FAQs

Do you do destination weddings?

Yes! I LOVE traveling and if I can pair it with my passion for photography I absolutely will. I've shot in a number of states and a few countries for weddings, so if you're planning a destination wedding let's chat!

Do you provide videography services?

No. I do not offer videography services, but I have a few awesome videographers I've worked with that I am happy to refer!

What does all- inclusive mean?

I deliver the online gallery with high resolution JPEG images, so you don't have to return to me for prints or photo albums. You can order those through a third party at a lower rate (There are some great sites to get affordable products that I can recommend). So, the price you pay is all inclusive. If you choose to order prints or albums with me, that is great, too! They will be high quality with that reflected in the price.

What type of set-up do you use for your equipment?

You can rest assured that I am a professional business and have insurance to protect you, and myself if any- thing were to happen. I also have a full set of backup gear, because you never know! So, your wedding day is safe in my hands.

How do I book my wedding with you?

I require a signed contract and half of the total collection package as retainer. The remaining balance is due 60 days before the wedding. Once the contract is signed and the retainer is paid your wedding day is secured!

I booked with you (paid my retainer and signed the contract) now what?

About 30-60 days before the wedding, I will send you a questionnaire. This questionnaire is to gather any additional information I may need, and to confirm information we've already discussed. At that point I will also send information about what to include in your bridal bag for your wedding day (this will be a bag of items put together for me to photograph with the details on your wedding day).

How long does it take to get my wedding gallery?

Contractually I allow 90 days for the post processing of your full wedding gallery. This is because I look at every single image, I take on your wedding day and professionally process it. Depending on the season it can be quicker. Usually, I complete the full gallery is less time than 60 days. I edit weddings in the order of which they are captured, and I do it in a timely manner because I know you want to see the photos!

Do you deliver sneak peeks?

Yes! I post sneak peeks of your wedding online; either Facebook, Instagram and/or my blog. I love sharing the images with you this way because then you can also easily share them with friends and family while I finish the complete gallery. Often times I will also put these images into an online gallery & deliver them ahead of the complete gallery, so you have photos to share from your special day!

Will we get a print release to our photos after our wedding?

Yes! You will get a print release and can reproduce the images for personal use as much as you would like.

Will our wedding be featured in a magazine or blog?

Although many of our sessions get featured this is not something we can guarantee.

Do you have a list of preferred vendors to use?

Yes! From florists, to bakers, to coordinators! Please let us know and we would be happy to send the list your way.
